

Presented by the UNC Charlotte Center for STEM Education, Duke Energy Explorium, CMS & Gaston County Schools

7th Annual STEM Outdoor Catawba River STEM Learning Fair

When: September 29, 2017 9:30 AM – 1:00 PM
Where: The Duke Energy Explorium – Huntersville/Hwy 73
Who: 600+ - 5th Grade students & teachers and STEM educators from the greater Charlotte region

Ida A. Rankin Elementary

Catawba Heights Elementary

Mountain Island Elementary

Lebanon Road Elementary

Whitewater Elementary

Lake Wylie Elementary

River Oaks Elementary

Event: Interactive Learning Stations presented by regional water resource and management businesses, community, educational and governmental agencies coordinated by UNC Charlotte Center for STEM Education.

Belmont Abbey College Elementary Education
NC State Education Forest Mt. Island
Mecklenburg County Park and Recreation
Mecklenburg County Air Quality
Mecklenburg County Environmental Health Groundwater
UNC Charlotte Center for STEM Education
Grease Free Education Program Charlotte Mecklenburg Utilities
NC Wildlife Federation
Charlotte Mecklenburg School Elementary Science
AREVA

Gaston County Natural Resources
Mecklenburg County Soil & Water District
Recycling – Recommunity Mecklenburg County
WUNC Weather
FMC Lithium Corporation
Charlotte-Mecklenburg County Storm Water Services
Carolina Raptor Center
Xylem, Inc.
North Carolina Association of Floodplain Managers and more.....

The Catawba River STEM Festival will highlight hands-on learning and engaging activities for 5th grade students focused on the Catawba River and its importance to the greater Charlotte area. STEM (science technology engineering and math) skill development is a key component of career readiness. Hands-On learning opportunities are a proven method of increasing education retention rates and the students love it!

Sponsors:

